Axiom Software Introduces EPDS version 8 and becomes the preferred supplier for EDGE.

Valhalla, NY – March 18, 2005

Want to get even more out of your electronic parts distribution business like EDGE members?

Upgrade to the latest EPDS software release version 8 to reduce your operating costs, increase productivity and open up new revenue opportunities. And with Axiom's expanded technical support staff, implementing EPDS, the leading business software solution for the electronic parts industry, is easier and even more cost-effective.

Among some of the upgrades is the ability to offer counter sales enabling you to expand your business into retail. EPDS version 8 allows you to instantly print out invoices, update inventory, handle credit card transactions, accounting, etc., all seamlessly within EPDS.

New tools further automate and improve inventory and order control increasing efficiency and decreasing operating costs. EPDS version 8 lets you handle discrepant material, defective parts or those that are non-saleable, as a separate line item from regular inventory. So now you can easily identify discrepant inventory, its history and its disposition. More importantly, your inventory reports more accurately reflect your saleable goods and inventory value.

Overpaying commissions? Upgrading to EPDS version 8 will transform the way you pay commissions giving you a more accurate picture of your gross profit margin. With version 8 you can drive down the time and costs associated with running your sales organization and calculate commissions more accurately. Now EPDS automatically subtracts often missed expenses you should figure in when establishing a salespersons commissionable rate such as inbound freight charges.
